Chavit son resigns, finally

By Cynthia A. Santos

MANILA—Son of the late President Ferdinand Marcos, Ferdinand "Bongbong" Marcos Jr., has finally resigned his position as a member of the House of Representatives after a long and controversial tenure.

The resignation comes after a series of controversies surrounding his conduct in office. He had been accused of various acts of corruption and misuse of power. His resignation was a long-awaited move, as he had been in the House since 1992.

The resignation was announced by his family. It was a significant moment in the political life of the Marcos family. The resignation was effective immediately.

Don McLean sings today at Big Dome

By Patricia Connolly
For many years, Don McLean has been a staple of the music industry. His songs, such as "American Pie," "Vincent," and "The Night the Lights Went Out in Georgia," have become classics. He has won numerous awards, including a Grammy and a Pulitzer Prize. His music has inspired generations of musicians and fans alike.

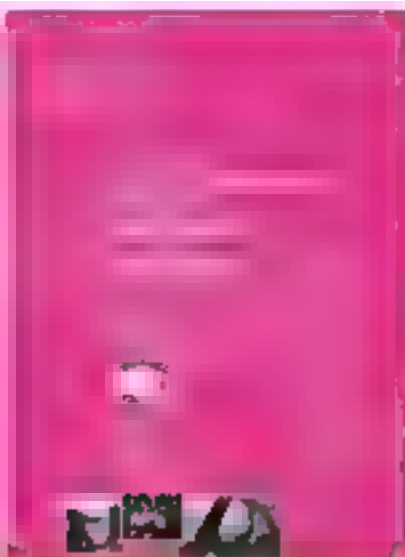

Beyond music
Don McLean is not just a musician; he is a storyteller. His songs often tell stories of love, loss, and the human experience. He has been a part of many important moments in music history, and his influence is still felt today.

22 Nino weakens
In many ways, Don McLean's music is a reflection of his life. He has been through many challenges, but he has always come out stronger. His music is a testament to his resilience and his love for his craft.

'People power needed vs Gadhafi'

By [illegible] and [illegible]

Libya's Gadhafi regime has been in power for 42 years, but the country has never been a democracy. The people have no say in the government, and the regime has been brutal to its subjects. The people of Libya are now rising up against the regime, and the world is watching. The people of Libya are now the heroes of the story, and the world is cheering for them. The people of Libya are now the heroes of the story, and the world is cheering for them.

Not Rambolito's lucky week

By [illegible]

Rambolito, the former mayor of Manila, has been in the news a lot lately. He has been accused of various crimes, including corruption and abuse of power. He has been charged with several offenses, and he is facing a trial. The trial is expected to be a long and difficult one, and the public is watching closely. Rambolito's fate is in the hands of the court, and the public is waiting to see what happens.

Stand-off in Fortress Tripoli unlike Edsa 1

After the party

THE MILITARY STAND-OFF in Tripoli is not like the 1986 Edsa 1 revolution in the Philippines. The situation in Tripoli is more complex and involves more international players. The Libyan government is not as isolated as the Marcos regime was in 1986. The international community is more divided on the issue of intervention in Libya. The situation in Tripoli is also more volatile and unpredictable. The conflict has been ongoing for a long time and has caused significant human and economic losses. The international community has been unable to reach a consensus on how to deal with the situation in Libya. The conflict in Tripoli is a reminder of the challenges of international intervention in civil wars.

OFWs in UK news

THE UK NEWS about Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) is a mix of good and bad. On the one hand, there are reports of successful OFWs who have made a lot of money and are now returning home. On the other hand, there are also reports of OFWs who are facing exploitation and abuse in the UK. The UK government has been criticized for not doing enough to protect OFWs from these dangers. The situation for OFWs in the UK is a complex one and needs to be addressed by the UK government.

BASEMENT REMAINS FLOODED

Condo cleanup hits a snag

By Tracy A. Spence and Doug M. Spence
11:00 PM ET

It's been nearly a week since the basement of a Manhattan condo was flooded, and the cleanup is still a long way from over. The water, which rose to the ceiling of the 1,200-square-foot unit, has been removed, but the damage is extensive. The building's management is still working to dry out the unit and repair the damage. The owner is still in the process of finding a new home.

HR clarifies tax concerns of OFWs

The Department of Labor (DOLE) has clarified the tax concerns of Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) regarding the new tax rules. The DOLE stated that the new rules are designed to provide OFWs with more favorable tax treatment, including the ability to deduct travel expenses and other costs incurred in securing employment abroad. The DOLE also emphasized that the new rules are intended to encourage more OFWs to work abroad and contribute to the Philippine economy.

Figure 1. A schematic diagram illustrating the experimental design. The diagram shows a sequence of events starting from a subject's arrival at the laboratory. The subject is first familiarized with the task and then performs a series of trials. Each trial consists of a stimulus presentation phase followed by a response phase. The response phase includes a decision period where the subject chooses between two options based on the stimulus. The results are then recorded and analyzed. The diagram also indicates the timing of the stimulus presentation and the response period.

Figure 1 is a 3D bar chart illustrating the distribution of the number of children per family (Y-axis, 0 to 10) across different levels of education (X-axis: Primary, Secondary, Tertiary) and income (Z-axis: Low, Medium, High). The chart shows that higher education and income levels are associated with a higher number of children per family. For example, the 'Tertiary' education group with 'High' income has the highest number of children per family, while the 'Primary' education group with 'Low' income has the lowest.

Women in charge like it their way

By Thom H. Baker

WHILE THE 1990s have been called the decade of the car, it's also been the decade of the woman driver.

According to a new survey by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, the number of women drivers has increased by 10 percent since 1980.

The survey also found that women drivers are more likely than men to drive for pleasure rather than for work.

And, according to the survey, women drivers are more likely than men to drive a car that is less than five years old.

The survey also found that women drivers are more likely than men to drive a car that is less than 10,000 miles old.

Instant gratification

When it comes to buying a car, most people want to get it as fast as possible. That's why many people are turning to the "instant gratification" option of leasing a car.

Leasing a car allows you to drive a new car for a set period of time, usually three to four years, for a fixed monthly payment. At the end of the lease, you can return the car to the leasing company or buy it for a predetermined price.

One of the main advantages of leasing a car is that you can avoid the depreciation that comes with owning a car. When you lease a car, you are essentially paying for the car's depreciation over the lease term.

Another advantage of leasing a car is that you can avoid the hassle of selling a car. When you lease a car, you can simply return it to the leasing company at the end of the lease term.

However, there are also some disadvantages to leasing a car. One of the main disadvantages is that you are not building equity in the car. When you lease a car, you are not paying for the car's full value.

Another disadvantage of leasing a car is that you may have to pay for wear and tear on the car. Most leasing companies have a mileage limit and a wear-and-tear allowance. If you exceed these limits, you may have to pay extra at the end of the lease.

Family-like care service for Aia owners

Aia owners can now enjoy a family-like care service from the company's new "Aia Family Care" program. The program is designed to provide Aia owners with a comprehensive range of services, including maintenance, repairs, and more. The program is available to all Aia owners who are members of the Aia Family Care program.

AND CHANGE YOUR OLD BRAKE FLUID NOW

It's incredible. One out of every two cars that fail the brake fluid test fail because of old brake fluid. The brake fluid in your car is the lifeblood of your car's braking system. If it's old, it's bad. And if it's bad, it's time to change it.

Don't wait until it's too late. Change your brake fluid now. It's the best way to keep your car safe and sound.
